HOW TO WRITE RESEARCH PAPER FOR CONFERENCE ?

Writing a research paper is a difficult task. Most of the scholars and researchers do great works during their research but when the question comes to write a paper on their own research, then they fail to do so. This because of lack of information, understanding the procedure, process, lack of knowledge and proper guidance. If you planning to write a paper then you must prepare yourself before writing the paper. Let us discuss in details.

- 1.You can read as many as papers based on your research topic which are previously published. You will have a clear idea of how the facts and findings get presented.
- 2.Download as many as papers you can base on your topic and collect the citations for the reference of your paper.
- 3.Collect all the figures, pictures of results of the experiment done by you or required for the publication, Collect the tables and facts with reference.
- 4.Check the sample paper/paper format from the conference's website or brochure. Most of the conference organizers have a predefined sample formatted paper. So according to that, you need to prepare conference paper. It will be rejected if you don't do so. The sample paper format may change from conference to conference.
- 5.Check the rules and regulation of the conference for publication and selection criteria.
